

Stock Values Rise Further in Sympathy With Big Advance in Amalgamated Copper

TRADING WAS NARROW IN SPITE OF STRENGTH

General List Reacts When Rise in Copper Halts.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—The stock market, soon after the opening, took on a decided show of strength, but was nevertheless considerably narrower than at the close of last week. Practically the entire general rally was in sympathy with a quick rise of 3 per cent in Amalgamated Copper.

The general list began to react as soon as there was no further advance in Amalgamated. There was a professional disposition to take profits in speculative trading. The trading was not local. Commission business was moderate, but increased somewhat on account of buying orders on the reaction.

The bond market held steady. The reactionary tendency of the opening was not at all emphatic. The irrational list ruled slightly lower, but the average of prices was almost absolutely unchanged.

Some pressure was noted in Steel preferred, which lost 1/2 per cent in all. Amalgamated Copper rose 1/2 and Brooklyn Rapid Transit was inclined to heaviness, but rallied and gained 1/4 per cent. Steel five-eighths was somewhat stronger.

The general market continued to follow closely the movement of Amalgamated Copper. The reaction in Steel at the end of the first hour, when Amalgamated reached 1 per cent.

At noon Amalgamated Copper was up to the top price of the day, and the general list was within a small fraction of it. The trading in most stocks was unimportant. The London market was fairly active.

NEW YORK COTTON MARKET.

NEW YORK, Dec. 7.—There was a sort of natural reaction at the opening of the cotton market today, due to low Liverpool cables, and to heavy unloading by those who bought last week. The call revealed an excited interest in all the popular markets.

That a bull spirit still pervades the trade, however, is shown by the readiness with which the commission houses and others bought on the decline. Sully was credited with large purchases on March.

Spots were reported in good demand on all sort places, but Europe appeared to be doing little or nothing. In a general way early trade was weak to the pace set last week.

Later cables showed a rally in Liverpool, and our list strengthened. At noon the market was steady after a weak tendency under Liverpool selling and general liquidation. There was not much demand.

CURRENT NEWS AND GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO INVESTORS

There is a marked difference of opinion as to the cause of the advance in the market last week. Many of the financial experts now express the belief that professional buying and covering of shorts were the principal factors at work. The theory that large interests have been accumulating lots of stocks and that even the public was a buyer is now thought to have been partially fallacious.
